- (1) notes that the DA-led Midvaal Local Municipality was the only municipality in Gauteng that achieved a clean audit from the Auditor-General for the 2017-18 municipal financial year;
- (2) further notes that it was the fifth year in a row that the municipality achieved a clean audit;
- (3) recognises that the 2019 Good Governance Africa Government Performance Index ranked the municipality among the top ten performing municipalities in the Republic;
- (4) further recognises that the 2017-18 Gauteng City Region Observatory's Quality of Life Survey found that while overall satisfaction with service delivery in Gauteng is decreasing, the overall approval of the quality of services provided by Midvaal is steadily increasing;
- (5) acknowledges the role that the municipality's committed personnel and senior management's willingness to go the extra mile played in delivering another clean audit;
- (6) commends Midvaal's committed personnel and management for going the extra mile to deliver another clean audit result; and
- (7) congratulates one of the youngest mayors in the country, Councillor Bongani Baloyi, for continuing to improve the quality of services delivered by the municipality.

19(2)dn16e

17. Draft resolution (Ms H O Mkhalihi): That the House –

- (1) notes the growing and merciless massacre of women at the hands of men in this country, brought to the fore again through the murder of a 14-year-old Janika Mallo in Heinz Park, Cape Town, and many other women whose deaths have not been yet publicised;
- (2) further notes that Janika's killers are yet to be known and apprehended, they are walking the streets as if nothing happened, patiently waiting for another female victim to maim, rape and kill;
- (3) acknowledges that the country has largely failed to create a conducive space for women to live without fear; and that legislatively and operationally, we have not done the necessary to free our society of the scourge of violence;
- (4) further acknowledges that the criminal justice system has let all of us down, in particular, women and children, who live with their perpetrators every day; and that the system does not work for unknown little girls such as Janika, who come from poor families;

(5) realises that the South African Police Services is wholly incapacitated to deal with violent crimes in South Africa, and that the institution needs a complete overhaul; and

(6) conveys its deepest condolences to the family of Janika Mallo.

19(2)dn17e

18. Draft resolution (Dr L A Schreiber): That the House –

(1) notes that Government owes South African businesses over R 7.1 billion in unpaid invoices older than 30 days;

(2) further notes that the Department of Human Settlements, Water and Sanitation is the single biggest offender, owing businesses R 492 million, followed by the Department of Agriculture, Land Reform and Rural Development owing R 99 million and the Department of Police owing R 24 million;

(3) recognises that provincial governments owe businesses an additional, staggering R 6.5 billion with Gauteng and the Eastern Cape having failed to pay for services to the tune of R 2.6 billion and R 2.1 billion, respectively;

(4) acknowledges that the failure to pay service providers within the prescribed 30 days is a vicious assault on the prosperity of local businesses that are the engine of economic growth; and

(5) calls on the Presidency to introduce penalties for the accounting officers of government departments that fail to pay invoices within the prescribed 30 days.

19(2)dn18e

19. Draft resolution (Mrs M R Mohlala): That the House –

(1) recognises that the attacks on our brothers and sisters from Nigeria, Zimbabwe, Ethiopia, Malawi, Mozambique and other African countries is motivated by self-hate, the hate of one's own and the misguided belief that anything African is bad;

(2) realises that there is no reason why we should go out to attack our own brothers and sisters, disrupt their livelihood and call on them to go home;

(3) understands that Africa is their home, South Africa is their home, they are us and we are them, and we should protect one another from criminality;

(4) further understands that the political freedom we enjoy today is because Africans all over recognized that their independence from colonization was incomplete without dignity and freedom of all Africans including in South Africa;

(5) agrees to issue a strong statement in one voice to call for an end to xenophobic and Afrophobic attacks; and to adopt a declaration signed by all Members of the Assembly calling for an end to xenophobia and Afrophobia; and

- (6) calls on government to commit to programmes that foster cohesion with other Africans where we have seen attacks.
